

I get so many calls now, that I sometime think about not have a phone. Everyone thinks that if you have a phone they can call you at anytime or send you anything. They don't have the balls to give you there number or have it come up on caller ID.